SCOPE

This Policy and Procedure reflects the current statutory guidance from The Department for Education 'Keeping Children Safe in Education' (September 2020), Working Together To Safeguard Children (2018) and in addition there is an attached addendum in relation to Safeguarding and Coronavirus. Staff must have regard to DfE Guidance for Schools; Coronavirus along with Bolton Children's Safeguarding Partnership guidance;

Bolton Safeguarding Children Arrangements during COVID 19

DFE COVID 19 Guidance for schools and colleges

This policy and its procedures do not form part of the contract of employment; however, they apply to all full and part time employees of the school, including those employed on temporary or fixed-term contracts. Volunteers, supply staff and contractors who offer their services to the school and parents will be made aware of this document (see Appendices 1 and 2).

The school's Policy and Procedures will apply at all times when the school is providing services or activities directly under the management of Sharples school staff. This Policy and Procedure will be reviewed annually and may be amended from time to time. Should any deficiencies or weaknesses in Child Protection arrangements become apparent, these will be remedied without delay and maybe changed before the annual date.

PURPOSE AND PRINCIPLES

Sharples School will strive to ensure that all pupils remain safe and free from harm and are committed to playing a full and active part in the Multi-Agency response to Child Protection concerns. It is recognised that Schools and Colleges and their staff are an important part of the wider safeguarding system for children. The purpose of this document is to ensure that all staff are aware of the arrangements that Sharples school have in place for safeguarding and promoting the welfare of its pupils. It provides guidance to help staff who may have concerns about the safety or welfare of a child, and sets out the school's position in relation to all aspects of the Safeguarding and Child Protection processes.

KEY DEFINITIONS AND CONCEPTS

Child

The Children Act 1989 and 2004, states a child is anyone who has not reached their 18th birthday. The commitment to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children however will extend to all children who visit Sharples School as well as all pupils of school.

Safeguarding and Promoting the Welfare of Children

No single professional can have a full picture of a child's needs and circumstances. If children and families are to receive the right help at the right time, everyone who comes into contact with them has a role to play in identifying concerns, sharing information and taking prompt action

Safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children is everyone's responsibility. Everyone who comes into contact with children and their families and carers has a role to play in safeguarding children. In order to fulfil this responsibility effectively, all professionals should make sure their approach is child-centred. This means that they should consider, at all times, what is in the best interests of the child

The Department for Education (DfE) 'Keeping Children Safe in Education' (September 2020), states safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children is defined for the purposes of this guidance as:

- Protecting children from maltreatment
- Preventing impairment of children's health or development,
- Ensuring that children are growing up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care and
- Taking action to enable all children have the best outcomes

Safeguarding children's welfare encompasses matters such as bullying and health and safety, (about which there are specific statutory requirements) together with a range of other procedures, for example, arrangements for meeting the medical needs of children with Medical Conditions, providing First Aid, School Security, Drugs, Alcohol and Substance Misuse, Attendance, Admissions, Exclusions, Preventing Extremism and Radicalisation, Child Sexual Exploitation, EHA, Managing Allegations, Whistle-blowing, Mandatory reporting duty for Female Genital Mutilation (FGM), Valuing Equality, Racist Incidents, Harassment & Discrimination, School Security & Physical Environment, ICT / online-safety, Safe Recruitment and Selection or any other safeguarding which the DfE have issued guidance on. Details of the School's policies in these areas are contained in other documents and can be accessed via our school website.

Child Protection

Child Protection is part of safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and refers to the activity that is undertaken to protect children who are suffering, or are at risk of suffering significant harm.

Significant Harm

The definition of significant harm is not prescriptive. The interpretation will depend largely on professional judgement, based on the known facts. It can include inappropriate touching, an assault, or a series of compounding events e.g. bullying. Other factors to be considered include the age and vulnerability of the child, the degree of force used, the frequency of the harm, the nature of the harm in terms of ill treatment, and the impact on the child's health and development.

THE ROLE OF THE SCHOOL AND COLLEGE STAFF:

- The child's welfare is paramount.
- All children have an absolute right to a childhood free from abuse, neglect or exploitation.

- All school staff have a responsibility to provide a safe environment in which children can learn.
- Everyone who comes into contact with children and their families have a role to play in safeguarding children. School and college staff are particularly important as they are in a position to identify concerns early and provide help for children to prevent concerns from escalating.
- All members of Sharples staff have a responsibility to be mindful of issues related to children's safety and welfare and a duty to report and refer any concerns however "minor" they appear to be. (NB It is NOT, however, the role of school staff to investigate those concerns).
- The designated safeguarding lead (and any deputies) are most likely to have a complete safeguarding picture and be the most appropriate person to advise on the response to safeguarding concerns.
- Parents have a right to be informed in respect of any concerns about their child's welfare, or any action taken to safeguard and promote the child's welfare, providing this does not compromise the child's safety.
- Children are best protected when professionals work effectively together and share responsibility for protective action.
- Where there are possible concerns about a child's safety, unconditional confidentiality cannot be guaranteed and should not be offered. When a child is subject to the Child Protection Plan, information about the child and their circumstances will only be shared on a "need to know" basis.
- Sharples school is proactive and takes positive steps to inform children of their rights to safety and protection and the options available to express their fears or concerns.
- The school has in place robust systems that deter possible abusers and will effectively manage any allegations or concerns about abuse if they arise. The staff member who has a concern about a child's welfare should follow the referral processes set below, staff may be required to support social workers and other agencies following any referral.
- When children make allegations about abuse or neglect they will always be listened to, have their comments taken seriously and, where appropriate, the allegations will be investigated thoroughly by the child's social worker.
- All school and college staff should be prepared to identify children who may benefit from early help. Early help means providing support as soon as a problem emerges at any point in a child's life, from the foundation years through to the teenage years. In the first instance, staff should discuss early help requirements with the designated safeguarding lead. Staff may be required to support other agencies and professionals in an early help assessment.
- The Teachers' Standards 2012 state that teachers, including headteachers, should safeguard children's wellbeing and maintain public trust in the teaching profession as part of their professional duties.

The Data Protection Act 2018 and GDPR do not prevent, or limit, the sharing of information for the purposes of keeping children safe. Fears about sharing information must not be allowed to stand in the way of the need to promote welfare and protect the safety of children. Staff should have regard to the Department for Education Guidance; Information Sharing Advice for Safeguarding Practitioners (2018) Safeguarding practitioners information sharing advice

RECORD KEEPING

Files should be kept updated and stored securely. Files should only be accessed by those who need to and when file content is shared it is in line with Information Sharing Guidance. All concerns, discussions and decisions made, and the reasons for those decisions, should be recorded in writing or using the appropriate form or electronic database CPOMS. If in doubt about recording requirements, staff should discuss with the designated safeguarding lead (or deputy).

The Designated Safeguarding Lead is responsible for transferring Child Protection files to the new school or college within five days of an in-year transfer or within the first five days of term. They should be transferred separately from the main file and a receipt should be obtained.

What school and college staff need to know:

All staff should be aware of systems within their school or college which support safeguarding and these should be explained to them as part of staff induction and staff should be provided with this policy along with the following:

- Part one of Keeping Children Safe in Education (2020)
- the behaviour policy;
- the staff behaviour policy (sometimes called a code of conduct);
- the safeguarding response to children who go missing from education; and
- the role of the designated safeguarding lead (including the identity of the designated safeguarding lead and any deputies).

All Sharples staff members should receive appropriate safeguarding and child protection training which is regularly updated. In addition all staff members should receive safeguarding and child protection updates (for example, via email, e-bulletins and staff meetings), as required, but at least annually, to provide them with relevant skills and knowledge to safeguard children effectively.

All Sharples staff should be aware of the early help process, and understand their role in it. This includes identifying emerging problems, liaising with the designated safeguarding lead, sharing information with other professionals to support early identification and assessment and, in some cases, acting as the lead professional in undertaking an early help assessment.

All Sharples staff should be aware of the process for making referrals to children's social care and for statutory assessments under the Children Act 1989 that may follow a referral, along with the role they might be expected to play in such assessments.

All Sharples staff should know what to do if a child tells them he/she is being abused or neglected. Staff should know how to manage the requirement to maintain an appropriate level of confidentiality whilst at the same time liaising with relevant professionals such as the designated safeguarding lead and children's social care. Staff should never promise a child that they will not tell anyone about an allegation, as this may ultimately not be in the best interests of the child.

All Sharples staff members working with children in our school are advised to maintain an attitude of 'it could happen here' where safeguarding is concerned. When concerned about the welfare of a child, staff members should always act in the best interests of the child. Knowing what to look for is vital to the early identification of abuse and neglect. If staff members at our school are unsure, they know they should always speak to the designated safeguarding lead.

If a child is in immediate danger or is at risk of harm, a referral should be made to the Multi Agency Safeguarding and Screening Service (MASSS) and/or the police immediately. Anyone can make a referral. Where referrals are not made by the designated safeguarding lead, the designated safeguarding lead should be informed as soon as possible that a referral has been made.

Why is all this important?

It is important for children to receive the right help at the right time to address risks and prevent issues escalating. Research and Serious Case Reviews have repeatedly shown the dangers of failing to take effective action. Poor practice includes: failing to act on and refer the early signs of abuse and neglect; poor record keeping; failing to listen to the views of the child; failing to re-assess concerns when situations do not improve; sharing information too slowly; and a lack of challenge to those who appear not to be taking action

Sharples School – Procedures and Guidelines for Child Protection and Safeguarding Children

PREVENTION

Sharples School takes seriously its duty of pastoral care and is proactive in seeking to prevent children becoming the victims of abuse, neglect or exploitation. It does this in several ways:

- Through the creation of an open culture which respects all individuals' rights and discourages bullying and discrimination of all kinds
- By identifying members of staff who have overall responsibility for Child Protection matters
- By ensuring these members of staff receive training in this field and act as a source of advice and support to other School staff
- By informing children of their rights to be free from harm and encouraging them to talk to school staff if they have any concerns, and
- Through SMSC (Spiritual, Moral, Social & Cultural) and promoting British values Sharples School provides an on-going programme of support through the curriculum at an age appropriate level, to promote self-esteem and social inclusion, and to address the issue of child protection in the wider context of safeguarding.

EARLY HELP

Early Help means providing support as soon as a problem emerges, at any point in a child's life.

In Bolton staff must refer to Bolton's Framework for action, which provides guidance on how Early Help should be delivered to facilitate a high quality, collaborative approach to holistic assessment, support and planning and enable positive outcomes. For this to be effective, all agencies are required to work together to:

- Identify children and families who would benefit from support
- Undertake an assessment of need
- Provide services to address those needs
- Review progress to ensure that positive change has happened

Any child may benefit from early help, but all school and college staff should be particularly alert to the potential need of Early Help;

Sharples School is committed to early help and the identification of unmet needs and vulnerabilities of its pupils and works in partnership with other agencies to promote the welfare of the pupils and to keep them safe. All staff are aware of the early help process and understand their role in identifying emerging problems, sharing information with other agencies and for some staff acting as the lead professional in undertaking early help assessments. Sharples adheres to Bolton's Framework for Action and will implement the Early Help process to support the wellbeing of children and families by tackling emerging needs at the earliest opportunity and prevent them from getting worse.

Bolton's Integrated Working Team provides advice, support, guidance documents and training on Early Help processes. They can be contacted by phone: 01204 331392/4; Email: boltonISA@bolton.gov.uk or on the <http://boltonsafeguardingchildren.org.uk/resources>

TYPES OF ABUSE AND NEGLECT

Abuse: a form of maltreatment of a child. Somebody may abuse or neglect a child by inflicting harm, or by failing to act to prevent harm. Children may be abused in a family or in an institutional or community setting by those who know them or, more rarely by others (e.g. via the internet). They may be abused by an adult or adults or another child or children.

Physical abuse: a form of abuse which may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child. For more information on Fabricated or Induced Illness go to: https://greatermanchesterscb.proceduresonline.com/chapters/p_fab_ind_illness.html

Emotional abuse: the persistent emotional maltreatment of a child such as to cause severe and adverse effects on the child's emotional development. It may involve conveying to a child that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve serious bullying (including cyberbullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of maltreatment of a child, although it may occur alone.

Sexual abuse: involves forcing or enticing a child or young person to take part in sexual activities, not necessarily involving a high level of violence, whether or not the child is aware of what is happening. The activities may involve physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example rape or oral sex) or non-penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing and touching outside of clothing. They may also include non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, sexual images, watching sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways, or grooming a child in preparation for abuse (including via the internet). Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males. Women can also commit acts of sexual abuse, as can other children.

Neglect: Neglect is the persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development. Neglect may occur during pregnancy as a result of maternal substance abuse. Once a child is born, neglect may involve a parent or carer failing to:

- Protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger.
- Ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate care-givers).
- Ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment.
- It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs.

Working Together to Safeguard Children, 2018

Neglect remains the most common form of child abuse across the UK and in Bolton. Neglect is one of the forms of child abuse where there are opportunities to improve identification, make predictions about the likelihood of its continued occurrence and take more effective and earlier interventions to reduce the impact on a child.

Research from Serious Case Reviews has shown that there are often a number of missed opportunities to identify early emerging patterns of neglect, but sadly those opportunities are either not recognised or not responded to.

This is why Sharples school promotes the Early Help Process, evidencing impact and reviewing outcomes.

INDICATORS OF ABUSE AND NEGLECT

The school acknowledges that members of staff will not be experts at recognising where abuse may occur, or has already taken place, however staff will be expected to look out for any of the following indicators and take the appropriate action. The child may:

- Show unexplained or suspicious injuries such as bruising, cuts or burns, particularly if situated on a part of the body not normally prone to such injuries
- Have an injury for which the explanation seems inconsistent
- Describe what appears to be an abusive act in which they were involved – verbally or in written form such as an essay or drawing
- Show unexplained changes in behaviour - e.g. becoming very quiet, withdrawn, or displaying sudden outbursts of temper or hysteria. Academic work may suddenly deteriorate at this time
- Demonstrate age inappropriate sexual awareness
- Engage in sexually explicit behaviour in games/PE or other areas of the school
- Be distrustful of adults, particularly those with whom a close relationship will normally be expected
- Have difficulty in making friends
- Be prevented from socialising with other children
- Showing signs of depression, self-injury, suicidal tendencies
- Display variations in eating patterns including overeating or loss of appetite
- Lose weight for no apparent reason
- Become increasingly dirty or unkempt, with inadequate or damaged clothing

The above list is not exhaustive and the presence of one or more of the indicators will not be proof that abuse is actually taking place. It is not the responsibility of members of staff to decide that abuse is occurring, but it is their responsibility to act on any concerns.

SPECIFIC SAFEGUARDING ISSUES

All staff should have an awareness of safeguarding issues, some of which are listed below. Staff should be aware that behaviours linked to the likes of drug taking, alcohol abuse, truanting and sexting put children in danger.

All staff should be aware that safeguarding issues can manifest themselves via peer on peer abuse. This is most likely to include, but may not be limited to, bullying (including cyberbullying), gender based violence/sexual assaults and sexting. Staff should be clear as to the school or college's policy and procedures with regards to peer on peer abuse

Expert and professional organisations are best placed to provide up-to-date guidance and practical support on specific safeguarding issues. For example NSPCC offers information for schools and colleges on the TES website and also on its own website www.nspcc.org.uk

Schools and colleges can also access broad government guidance on the issues listed below via the GOV.UK website, Bolton Safeguarding Partnership website www.boltonsafeguardingchildren.org.uk and Bolton's Domestic Abuse Handbook which was updated in March 2016 to include a section on 'Adolescent to Parent Violence'.

- bullying including cyberbullying
- children missing education
- child missing from home or care
- child sexual exploitation (CSE) – see also below
- domestic abuse
- drugs
- fabricated or induced illness
- faith abuse
- female genital mutilation (FGM) – see also below
- forced marriage
- gangs and youth violence
- gender-based violence/violence against women and girls (VAWG)
- hate crime
- Initiation/hazing type violence rituals
- mental health
- missing children and adults
- private fostering
- prevent and radicalisation
- relationship abuse
- sexual violence and sexual harassment

- sexting (also known as youth produced sexual imagery)
- trafficking

DOMESTIC ABUSE AND SHARPLES SCHOOL'S COMMITMENT TO ENCOMPASS

The cross-government definition of domestic violence and abuse is:

Any incident or pattern of incidents of controlling, coercive, threatening behaviour, violence or abuse between those aged 16 or over who are or have intimate partners or family members regardless of gender or sexuality. The abuse can encompass, but is not limited to:

- Psychological
- Physical
- Sexual
- Financial; and
- Emotional

Exposure to domestic abuse and/or violence can have a serious, long lasting emotional and psychological impact on children. In some cases, a child may blame themselves for the abuse or may have had to leave the family home as a result. Domestic abuse affecting young people can also occur within their personal relationships as well as in the context of their home life.

Bolton's Domestic Abuse Handbook should also be referred to. This has been refreshed and updated and can be accessed here:

<https://www.bolton.gov.uk/downloads/file/1959/bolton-domestic-abuse-handbook>

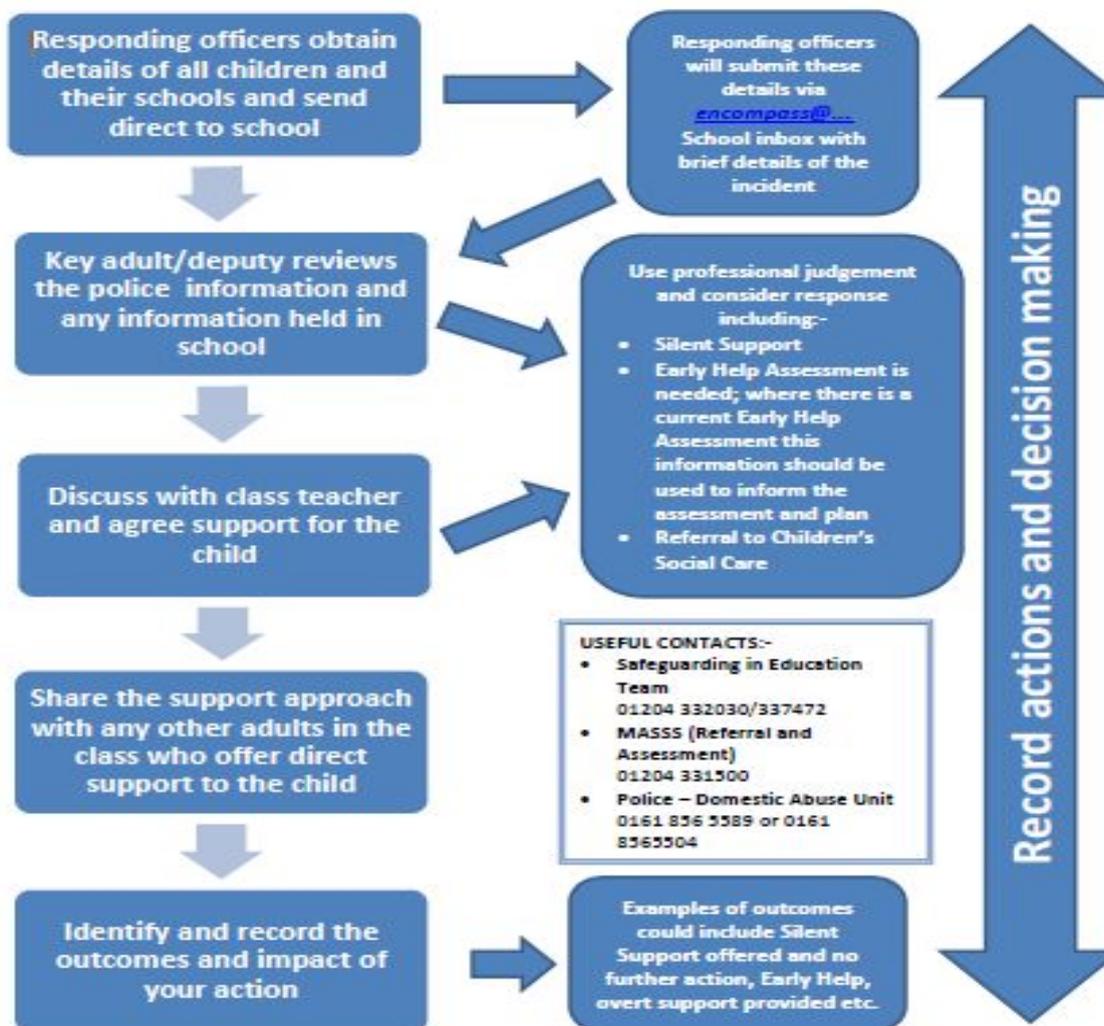

Domestic abuse is a safeguarding children issue and statistics show that in 90% of cases children are present in a household during a domestic abuse incident. Often the following day children are ill-prepared to deal with the school day.

Additional to the above, Bolton recognises domestic abuse and the impact this may have on Children and Young People, therefore in Bolton we have adopted the process of Encompass.

ENCOMPASS

Encompass is a partnership between Greater Manchester Police, (in Bolton this is the (PPIU) Police Protection Investigation Unit), Bolton Safeguarding Children Partnership and designated school staff, known as Key Adults. Working together to safeguard children, Greater Manchester Police will inform the Key Adults within schools about any domestic abuse incident where the child or young person has been present. This will enable the school to take appropriate steps to support their pupil during what could be an emotionally difficult day. Key adults within the school are then able to accommodate the school day to lessen the impact and to support the child if they need it. In its simplest form, they are given some leeway, comfort and support. This can make a huge difference to children and allows them to have a safe space (see flow chart below).

PEER ON PEER ABUSE

Children can abuse other children. This is generally referred to as peer on peer abuse and can take many forms. This can include (but is not limited to)

- bullying (including cyberbullying);
- physical abuse such as hitting, kicking, shaking, biting, hair pulling, or otherwise causing physical harm;
- sexual violence such as rape, assault by penetration and sexual assault;
- sexual harassment, such as sexual comments, remarks, jokes and online sexual harassment, which may be stand-alone or part of a broader pattern of abuse;

- upskirting, which typically involves taking a picture under a person's clothing without them knowing, with the intention of viewing their genitals or buttocks to obtain sexual gratification, or cause the victim humiliation, distress or harm;
- sexting (also known as youth produced imagery)

Peer-on-peer abuse will never be accepted or dismissed as 'children being children'. Staff will refer peer on peer abuse to MASSS to make sure that the children affected are getting the help they need.

If the children involved in Peer on Peer abuse are in the same class, school will consider carefully whether to separate them while the concerns are being investigated. In situations of alleged rape and assault by penetration, the statutory Guidance is clear that the alleged perpetrator should always be removed from classes they share with the victim.

The DfE guidance also asks schools and colleges to consider how best to keep the victim and alleged perpetrator a reasonable distance apart while they are on the same premises, as well as on transport to and from school or college, where appropriate.

The arrangements for keeping both the alleged victim and alleged perpetrator safe in school will be considered at the strategy meeting and the Safeguarding in Education Team can assist school with implementing a safety and support plan for both the alleged perpetrator and the alleged victim.

CHILDREN WITH SEXUALLY HARMFUL BEHAVIOUR

Children may be harmed by other children or young people. Staff will be aware of the harm caused by bullying and will use the school's anti-bullying procedures where necessary. However, there will be occasions when a child's behaviour warrants a response under child protection rather than anti-bullying procedures. In particular, research suggests that up to 30 per cent of child sexual abuse is committed by someone under the age of 18.

The management of children and young people with sexually harmful behaviour is complex and the school will work with other relevant agencies to maintain the safety of the whole school community. Young people who display such behaviour may be victims of abuse themselves and the child protection procedures will be followed for both victim and perpetrator. Children who harm others should be held responsible for their harmful behaviours while being identified and responded to in a way which meets their needs as well as protecting others.

If a child is displaying sexually harmful behaviour a referral should be made to MASSS and the Safeguarding in Education Team should be contacted to support the school with implementing a Safety Plan.

CONSENT ISSUES

If a young person is under the age of 13 years old, under the Sexual Offences Act 2003 they cannot legally consent to any form of sexual activity. Therefore, a referral to MASSS is required in all such cases.

The Sexual Offences Act 2003 reinforces that, whilst mutually agreed, non-exploitative sexual activity between teenagers does take place and that often no harm comes from it, the age of consent still remains at 16 years of age. This acknowledges that this group of young people are still vulnerable even when they do not view themselves as such. Whilst a referral to Social Care or the police is not mandatory in such cases, careful consideration (including whether the children are Gillick Competent (using Fraser Competent guidelines) must be given and explore any difference of age, maturity, functioning and experiences and also an awareness of the potential consequences of their act. It would be advisable for the Designated Safeguarding Lead to seek guidance from Social Care in such cases.

RELATIONSHIP AND SEX EDUCATION

It is now compulsory to teach relationships education in primary schools in England, and relationships and sex education in secondary schools. It is therefore essential that all teachers - regardless of their previous experience - are comfortable and confident in delivering these lessons. And crucially, that they're prepared to handle any safeguarding issues that may arise and report any concerns that are highlighted to the Designated Safeguarding Lead without delay.

DFE guidance on Sex Education RSE and Health Education

CONTEXTUAL SAFEGUARDING

Contextual Safeguarding is an approach to understanding, and responding to, young people's experiences of significant harm beyond their families. It recognises that the different relationships that young people form in their neighborhoods, schools and online can feature violence and abuse. Parents and carers have little influence over these contexts, and young people's experiences of extra-familial abuse can undermine parent-child relationships.

CHILD CRIMINAL EXPLOITATION/ COUNTY LINES

Criminal exploitation of children (CCE) is a geographical widespread form of harm that is a typical feature of county lines criminal activity, drug networks or gangs groom and exploit children and young people to carry drugs and money from urban areas to suburban and rural areas, market and seaside towns. Key to identifying potential involvement in county lines are missing episodes, when the victim may have been trafficked for the transporting of drugs and a referral to the National Referral Mechanism should be considered. If there are any concerns regarding CCE then staff must follow the school safeguarding procedures for reporting and recording the concerns and referring to the MASSS and or consider the designated safeguarding lead (and any deputies) should be aware of a referral to the National Referral Mechanism or if one should be considered. Like other forms of abuse and exploitation, CCE can:

- affect any child or young person (male or female) under the age of 18 years;
- affect any vulnerable adult over the age of 18 years;

- Still be exploitation even if the activity appears consensual;
- involve force and/or enticement-based methods of compliance and is often accompanied by violence or threats of violence;
- be perpetrated by individuals or groups, males or females, and young people or adults; and
- is typified by some form of power imbalance in favour of those perpetrating the exploitation.

CHILD SEXUAL EXPLOITATION (CSE):

The definition of Child Sexual Exploitation is as follows:

Child Sexual Exploitation is a form of child sexual abuse. It occurs when an individual or group takes advantage of an imbalance of power to coerce, manipulate or deceive a child or young person under the age of 18 into sexual activity (a) in exchange for something the victim needs or wants, and/or (b) for the financial advantage or increased status of the perpetrator or facilitator. The victim may have been sexually exploited even if the sexual activity appears consensual. Child sexual exploitation does not always involve physical contact, it can also occur through the use of technology (DfE, February 2017).

Technology is widely used by perpetrators as a method of grooming and coercing victims, often through social networking sites, such as Facebook, Snapchat, Instagram, and mobile devices. More information about Child Sexual Exploitation is available on the Bolton Safeguarding Children Partnership in the resources section and school staff should also be aware of the Department for Education's Child sexual exploitation: guide for practitioners Online training is also available at Pace UK

If there are concerns that a child in school may be being sexually exploited staff must follow school's safeguarding procedures and the Designated Safeguarding Lead should refer to MASSS.

COMPLEX SAFEGUARDING HUB

If schools have concerns that a pupil/student is being exploited or they are frequently missing from home then a referral should be made to the MASSS. The referral will be then triaged by the MASSS and if the risks are considered medium/high then the case will be referred to CEAM (Child Criminal Exploitation and Missing) Panel and if deemed appropriate a Complex Safeguarding Social Care worker will be allocated to support the objectives within the plan.

SERIOUS VIOLENT CRIME

All staff should be aware of indicators, which may signal that children are at risk from, or involved in serious violent crime. They may include increased absence from school, a change in friendships or relationships with older individuals or groups, a significant change in wellbeing or signs of assault and unexplained injuries. Unexplained gifts or new possessions could also indicate that children have been approached by, or are involved with, individuals associated with criminal networks or gangs.

Guidance on Searching, Screening and Confiscation is available from the DFE.

HAZING/INITIATION

Hazing or initiation ceremonies refers to the practice of rituals, challenges, and other activities involving harassment, abuse or humiliation used as a way of initiating a person into a group.

Hazing is seen in many different types of social groups, including gangs, sports teams and school groups. The initiation rites can range from relatively benign pranks, to protracted patterns of behaviour that rise to the level of abuse or criminal misconduct. Hazing may include physical or psychological abuse. It may also include nudity or sexual assault. Staff need to be alert to such behaviour and act in line with this policy and behaviour policies.

SEXTING

Sharples school has a stand-alone policy on Sexting that includes a flowchart. Staff should also refer to the Sexting Guidance for schools that was released by the UK Council (UKCCIS) for Child Internet Safety; Sexting in Schools and Colleges: Responding to incidents and safeguarding young people (September, 2016). The guidance is designed for Designated Safeguarding Leads, their deputies, head teachers and Senior Leaders in schools and educational establishments.

HONOUR BASED ABUSE (including Female Genital Mutilation and Forced Marriage)

So-called 'honour-based' abuse (HBA) encompasses crimes which have been committed to protect or defend the honour of the family and/or the community, including Female Genital Mutilation (FGM), forced marriage, and practices such as breast ironing. Abuse committed in the context of preserving 'honour' often involves a wider network of family and community pressure and can include multiple perpetrators. It is important to be aware of this dynamic and additional risk factor when deciding what action to take. All forms of so-called Honour based abuse (regardless of the motivation) and should be handled and escalated as such. If in any doubts staff should speak to the designated safeguarding lead. Professionals in all agencies, and individuals and groups in relevant communities, need to be alert to the possibility of a child being at risk of HBA, or already having suffered HBA.

Indicators There are a range of potential indicators that a child may be at risk of HBA. Guidance on the warning signs that FGM or forced marriage may be about to take place, or may have already taken place and are listed below.

Actions

If staff have a concern regarding a child that might be at risk of HBA they should activate local safeguarding procedures, using existing national and local protocols for multi-agency liaison with police and children's social care.

FEMALE GENITAL MUTILATION (FGM)

FGM comprises all procedures involving partial or total removal of the external female genitalia or other injury to the female genital organs. It is illegal in the UK and a form of child abuse with long-lasting harmful consequences. Professionals in all agencies, and individuals and groups in relevant communities, need to be alert to the possibility of a girl being at risk of FGM, or already having suffered FGM.

Indicators that a girl is at risk of FGM

- Victims are likely to come from a community that is known to practice FGM
- Any girl born to a woman who has been subjected to FGM
- Any girl who has a sister who has undergone FGM
- Girls taken abroad at start of school holidays
- Parents state that they or a relative will take the child out of the country for a prolonged period
- A professional hears reference to FGM in conversation e.g. a child may tell other children about it.

Indicators that a girl has undergone FGM

- Girl may have difficulty walking, sitting or standing
- May spend longer in the bathroom or toilet owing to difficulties in urinating
- Recurrent urinary tract infections or complaints of abdominal pain
- spend longer periods away from the classroom
- Young girls refusing to participate in P.E. regularly without a medical note
- Prolonged absence from school with noticeable behaviour changes on the girl's return

Actions

If staff have a concern regarding a girl that might be at risk of FGM they should speak with the designated safeguarding lead or deputy. There is also a specific legal duty on teachers. If it is believed that there is an immediate risk of FGM then this should be reported to the police. Since 31 October 2015 there has been a mandatory reporting duty placed on teachers that requires a different approach where FGM has taken place (see following section).

Mandatory Reporting Duty

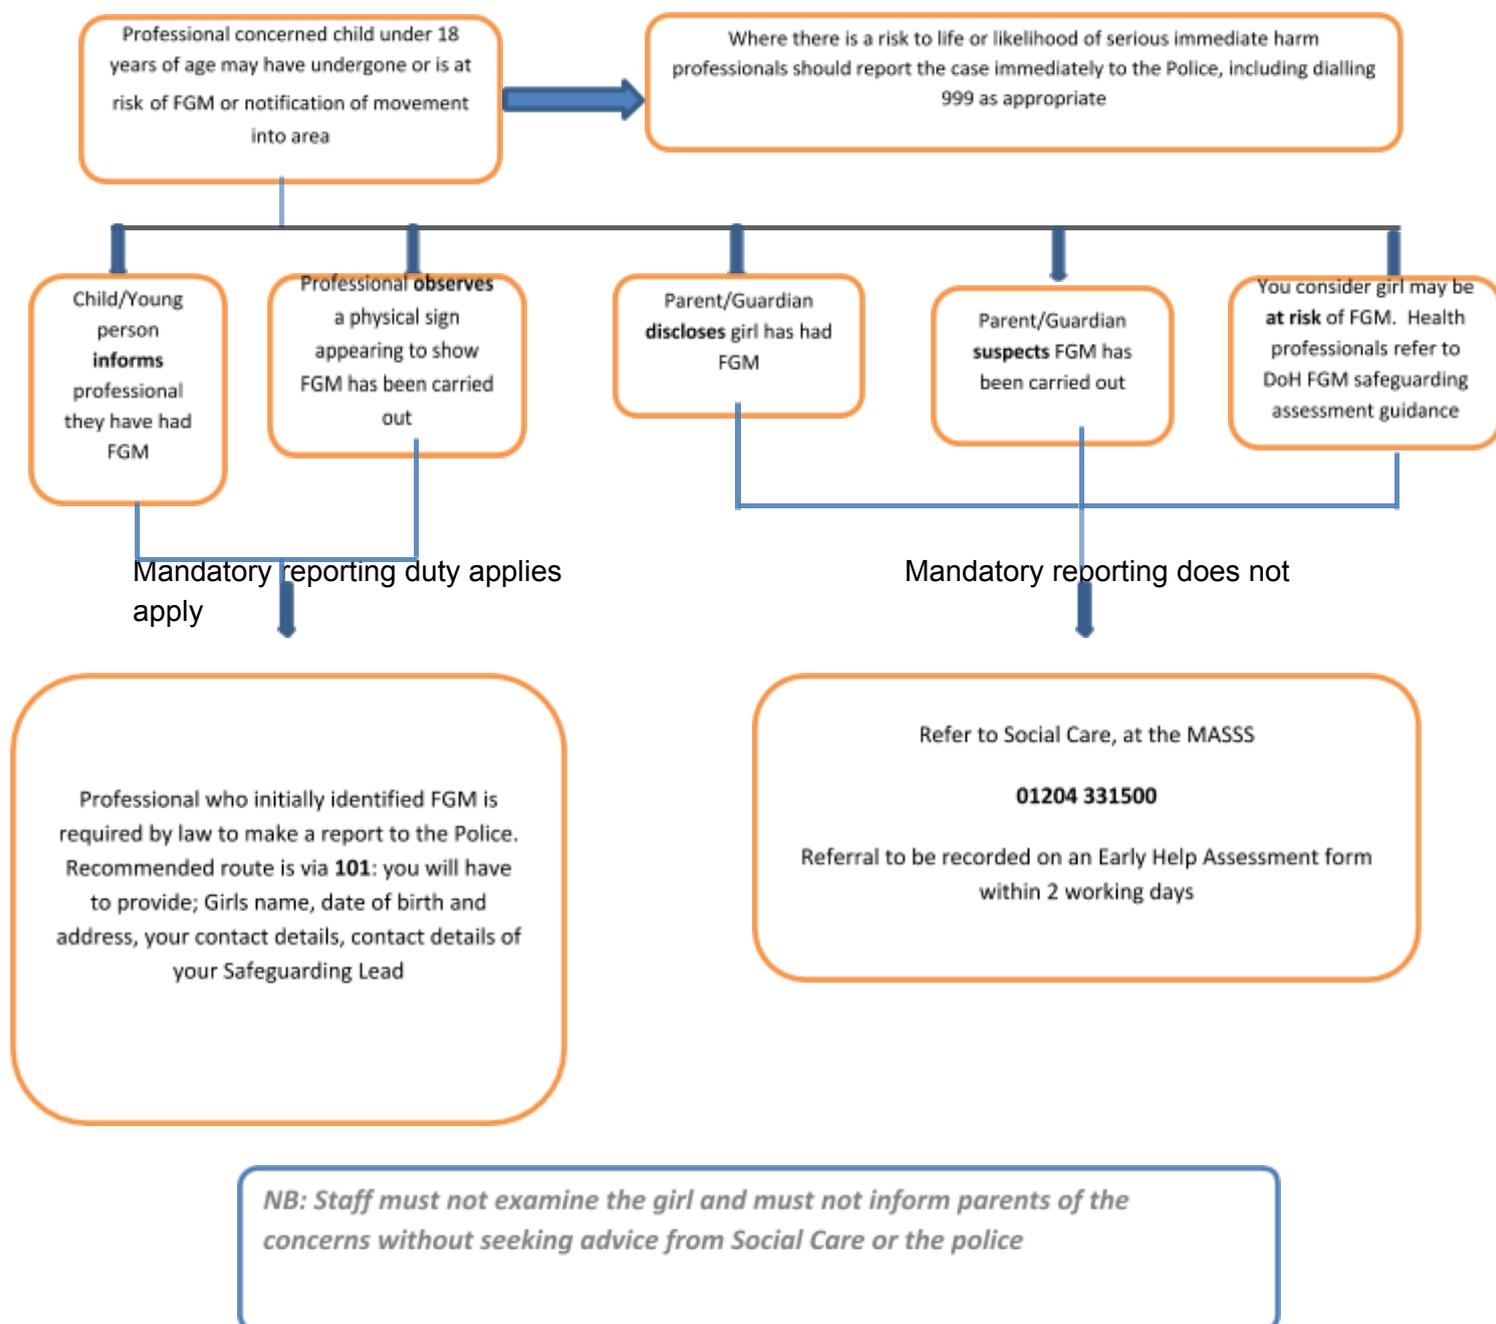

Section 5B of the Female Genital Mutilation Act 2003 (as inserted by section 74 of the Serious Crime Act 2015) places a statutory duty upon teachers, along with social workers and healthcare professionals, to report to the police where they discover (either through disclosure by the victim or visual evidence) that FGM appears to have been carried out on a girl under 18. Those failing to report such cases will face disciplinary sanctions. It will be rare for teachers to see visual evidence, and they should not be examining pupils, but the same definition of what is meant by "to discover that an act of FGM appears to have been carried out" is used for all professionals to whom this mandatory reporting duty applies.

Teachers must personally report to the police cases where they discover that an act of FGM appears to have been carried out, by telephoning 101.

Unless the teacher has a good reason not to, they should still consider and discuss any such case with the school's designated safeguarding lead and contact the MASSS.

- More information about FGM is available on the Bolton Safeguarding Children website: which is <http://boltonsafeguardingchildren.org.uk/resources> in the resources section and online training is available for staff see attached link: Female Genital Mutilation (FGM) E-Learning Package – <http://www.fgmelearning.co.uk>

REPORTING FEMALE GENITAL MUTILATION

RADICALISATION:

Protecting children from the risk of radicalisation is seen as part of Sharples School's wider safeguarding duties, and is similar in nature to protecting children from other forms of harm and abuse. During the process of radicalisation it is possible to intervene to prevent vulnerable people from being radicalised.

Radicalisation refers to the process by which a person comes to support terrorism and forms of extremism. There is no single way of identifying an individual who is likely to be susceptible to an extremist ideology. It can happen in many different ways and settings. Specific background factors may contribute to vulnerability which are often combined with specific influences such as family, friends or online, and with specific needs for which an extremist or terrorist group may appear to provide an answer. The internet and the use of social media in particular has become a major factor in the radicalisation of young people.

As with managing other safeguarding risks, staff should be alert to changes in children's behaviour which could indicate that they may be in need of help or protection. School staff should use their professional judgement in identifying children who might be at risk of radicalisation and act proportionately which may include making a referral to the Channel programme.

Prevent

From 1 July 2015 specified authorities, including all schools as defined in the summary of this guidance, are subject to a duty under section 26 of the Counter-Terrorism and Security Act 2015 ("the CTSA 2015"), in the exercise of their functions, to have "due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism. This duty is known as the Prevent duty. It applies to a wide range of public-facing bodies. Bodies to which this duty applies must have regard to statutory guidance issued under section 29 of the CTSA 2015 ('Prevent Guidance'). Paragraphs 57-76 of the Prevent Guidance are concerned specifically with schools.

The statutory Prevent guidance summarises the requirements on schools in terms of four general themes: risk assessment, working in partnership, staff training and IT policies.

Schools are expected to assess the risk of children being drawn into terrorism, including support for extremist ideas that are part of terrorist ideology. This means being able to demonstrate both a general understanding of the risks affecting children and young people in the area and a specific understanding of how to identify individual children who may be at risk of radicalisation and what to do to support them. Schools and colleges should have clear procedures in place for protecting children at risk of radicalisation. These procedures may be set out in existing safeguarding policies. It is not necessary for schools and colleges to have distinct policies on implementing the Prevent duty.

The Prevent duty builds on existing local partnership arrangements. For example, governing bodies and proprietors of all schools should ensure that their safeguarding arrangements take into account the policies and procedures of The Safeguarding Partnership (previously Local Safeguarding Children's Board).

The Prevent guidance refers to the importance of Prevent awareness training to equip staff to identify children at risk of being drawn into terrorism and to challenge extremist ideas. Individual schools are best placed to assess the training needs of staff in the light of their assessment of the risk to pupils at the school of being drawn into terrorism. As a minimum, however, schools should ensure that the designated safeguarding lead undertakes Prevent awareness training and is able to provide advice and support to other members of staff on protecting children from the risk of radicalisation. Schools must ensure that children are safe from terrorist and extremist material when accessing the internet in schools. Schools should ensure that suitable filtering is in place. It is also important that schools teach pupils about online safety more generally.

The Department for Education has also published advice for schools on the Prevent duty. The advice is intended to complement the Prevent guidance and signposts other sources of advice and support.

Prevent duty- Guidance for schools

The Government has launched Educate against Hate, a website designed to equip school and college leaders, teachers and parents with the information, tools and resources they need to recognise and address extremism and radicalisation in young people. The website provides information on training resources for teachers, staff and school and college leaders, such as Prevent e-learning, via the Prevent Training catalogue.

Channel

School staff should understand when it is appropriate to make a referral to the Channel programme. Channel is a programme which focuses on providing support at an early stage to people who are identified as being vulnerable to being drawn into terrorism. It provides a mechanism for schools to make referrals if they are concerned that an individual might be vulnerable to radicalisation. An individual's engagement with the programme is entirely voluntary at all stages.

Section 36 of the CTSA 2015 places a duty on local authorities to ensure Channel panels are in place. The panel must be chaired by the local authority and include the police for the relevant local authority area. Following a referral the panel will assess the extent to which identified individuals are vulnerable to being drawn into terrorism, and, where considered appropriate and necessary consent is obtained, arrange for support to be provided to those individuals. Section 38 of the CTSA 2015 requires partners of Channel panels to cooperate with the panel in the carrying out of its functions and with the police in providing information about a referred individual. Schools and colleges which are required to have regard to Keeping Children Safe in Education are listed in the CTSA 2015 as partners required to cooperate with local Channel panels.

CHILDREN AND THE COURT SYSTEM

Children are sometimes required to give evidence in criminal courts, either for crimes committed against them or for crimes they have witnessed. There are two age appropriate guides to support children 5-11-year olds and 12-17 year olds.

The guides explain each step of the process and support and special measures that are available. There are diagrams illustrating the courtroom structure and the use of video links is explained.

Making child arrangements via the family courts following separation can be stressful and entrench conflict in families. This can be stressful for children. The Ministry of Justice has launched an online child arrangements information tool <https://helpwithchildarrangements.service.justice.gov.uk/> with clear and concise information on the dispute resolution service. This may be useful for some parents and carers.

CHILDREN WITH FAMILY MEMBERS IN PRISON

Approximately 200,000 children have a parent sent to prison each year. These children are at risk of poor outcomes including poverty, stigma, isolation and poor mental health. National Intervention for Children with Parents in Custody (NICCO) provides information designed to support professionals working with offenders and their children, to help mitigate negative consequences for those children <https://www.nicco.org.uk/> . For further information go: https://greatermanchesterscb.proceduresonline.com/chapters/p_child_parent_prison.html

HOMELESSNESS

Being homeless or being at risk of becoming homeless presents a real risk to a child's welfare.

Whilst age may be the most obvious, this power imbalance can also be routes into the Local Housing Authority so they can raise/progress concerns at the earliest opportunity. Indicators that a family may be at risk of homelessness include household debt, rent arrears, domestic abuse and anti-social behaviour, as well as the family being asked to leave a property.

Whilst referrals and or discussion with the Local Housing Authority should be progressed as appropriate, and in accordance with local procedures, this does not, and should not, replace a referral into children's social care (MASS) where a child has been harmed or is at risk of harm.

The Homelessness Reduction Act 2017 places a new legal duty on English councils so that everyone who is homeless or at risk of homelessness will have access to meaningful help including an assessment of their needs and circumstances, the development of a personalised housing plan, and work to help them retain their accommodation or find a new place to live. The new duties shift focus to early intervention and encourage those at risk to seek support as soon as possible, before they are facing a homelessness crisis.

In most cases school and college staff will be considering homelessness in the context of children who live with their families, and intervention will be on that basis. However, it should also be recognised in some cases 16 and 17 year olds could be living independently from their parents or guardians, for example through their exclusion from the family home, and will require a different level of intervention and support. Children's services will be the lead agency for these young people and the designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy) should ensure appropriate referrals are made based on the child's circumstances. The department and the Ministry of Housing, Communities and Local Government have published joint statutory guidance on the provision of accommodation for 16 and 17 year olds who may be homeless and/ or require accommodation.

SEXUAL VIOLENCE AND SEXUAL HARASSMENT BETWEEN CHILDREN IN SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES

Context

Sexual violence and sexual harassment can occur between two children of any age and sex. It can also occur through a group of children sexually assaulting or sexually harassing a single child or group of children.

Children who are victims of sexual violence and sexual harassment will likely find the experience stressful and distressing. This will, in all likelihood, adversely affect their educational attainment.

Sexual violence and sexual harassment exist on a continuum and may overlap, they can occur online and offline (both physical and verbal) and are never acceptable. It is important that all victims are taken seriously and offered appropriate support. Staff should be aware that some groups are potentially more at risk. Evidence shows girls, children with SEND and LGBT children are at greater risk.

Staff should be aware of the importance of:

- making clear that sexual violence and sexual harassment is not acceptable, will never be tolerated and is not an inevitable part of growing up;
- not tolerating or dismissing sexual violence or sexual harassment as "banter", "part of growing up", "just having a laugh" or "boys being boys"; and
- Challenging behaviours (potentially criminal in nature), such as grabbing bottoms, breasts and genitalia, flicking bras and lifting up skirts. Dismissing or tolerating such behaviours risks normalising them.

What is Sexual violence and sexual harassment?

Sexual violence

It is important that school and college staff are aware of sexual violence and the fact children can, and sometimes do, abuse their peers in this way. When referring to sexual violence we are referring to sexual offences under the Sexual Offences Act 2003 as described below:

Rape: A person (A) commits an offence of rape if: he intentionally penetrates the vagina, anus or mouth of another person (B) with his penis, B does not consent to the penetration and A does not reasonably believe that B consents.

Assault by Penetration: A person (A) commits an offence if: s/he intentionally penetrates the vagina or anus of another person (B) with a part of her/his body or anything else, the penetration is sexual, B does not consent to the penetration and A does not reasonably believe that B consents.

Sexual Assault: A person (A) commits an offence of sexual assault if: s/he intentionally touches another person (B), the touching is sexual, B does not consent to the touching and A does not reasonably believe that B consents.

What is consent?

Consent is about having the freedom and capacity to choose. Consent to sexual activity may be given to one sort of sexual activity but not another, e.g. to vaginal but not anal sex or penetration with conditions, such as wearing a condom. Consent can be withdrawn at any time during sexual activity and each time activity occurs. Someone consents to vaginal, anal or oral penetration only if s/he agrees by choice to that penetration and has the freedom and capacity to make that choice.

Sexual harassment

When referring to sexual harassment we mean 'unwanted conduct of a sexual nature' that can occur online and offline. When we reference sexual harassment, we do so in the context of child on child sexual harassment. Sexual harassment is likely to: violate a child's dignity, and/or make them feel intimidated, degraded or humiliated and/or create a hostile, offensive or sexualised environment.

Whilst not intended to be an exhaustive list, sexual harassment can include:

- sexual comments, such as: telling sexual stories, making lewd comments, making sexual remarks about clothes and appearance and calling someone sexualised names;
- sexual "jokes" or taunting;
- physical behaviour, such as: deliberately brushing against someone, interfering with someone's clothes (schools and colleges should be considering when any of this crosses a line into sexual violence - it is important to talk to and consider the experience of the victim) and displaying pictures, photos or drawings of a sexual nature; and
- Online sexual harassment. This may be standalone, or part of a wider pattern of sexual harassment and/or sexual violence. It may include:
 - Non-consensual sharing of sexual images and videos;
 - sexualised online bullying;
 - Unwanted sexual comments and messages, including, on social media; and
 - Sexual exploitation; coercion and threats

The response to a report of sexual violence or sexual harassment

The initial response to a report from a child is important. It is essential that all victims are reassured that they are being taken seriously and that they will be supported and kept safe. A victim should never be given the impression that they are creating a problem by reporting sexual violence or harassment. Nor should a victim ever be made to feel ashamed of making a report.

If staff have a concern about a child or a child makes a report to them, they should follow the school's safeguarding procedures; they must listen to the report but must not ask any leading questions nor speak to the alleged perpetrator at this stage. The member of staff must then report to the Designated Safeguarding Lead and ensure that what has been reported and what actions have been recorded is accurate

All staff should also be aware that mental health problems can, in some cases, be an indicator that a child has suffered or is at risk of suffering abuse, neglect or exploitation.

Only appropriately trained professionals should attempt to make a mental health diagnosis. Staff however, are well placed to observe children day-to-day and identify those whose behaviour suggests that they may be experiencing a mental health difficulty or be at risk of developing one.

Where children have suffered abuse and neglect, or other potentially traumatic adverse childhood experiences, this can have a lasting impact throughout childhood, adolescence and into adulthood. It is important that staff are aware of how these children's experiences, and their high prevalence of special educational needs and mental health needs, can impact on their behaviour and education.

If staff have a mental health concern about a child that is also a safeguarding concern, immediate action should be taken, consulting with the Designated Safeguarding Lead and making a referral to MASSS.

Children requiring mental health support

Schools and colleges have an important role to play in supporting the mental health and wellbeing of their pupils.

Mental health problems can, in some cases, be an indicator that a child has suffered or is at risk of suffering abuse, neglect or exploitation. Governing bodies and proprietors should ensure they have clear systems and processes in place for identifying possible mental health problems, including routes to escalate and clear referral and accountability systems.

Schools and colleges can access a range of advice to help them identify children in need of extra mental health support, this includes working with external agencies. More information can be found in the mental health and behaviour in schools guidance, colleges may also wish to follow this guidance as best practice.

WHAT SHARPLES SCHOOL STAFF SHOULD DO IF THEY HAVE CONCERNS ABOUT A CHILD:

Sharples school staff who have concerns about a child should raise these with the school's designated safeguarding leads (DSL).

Ann Webster, Lee Savage and Claire Wood

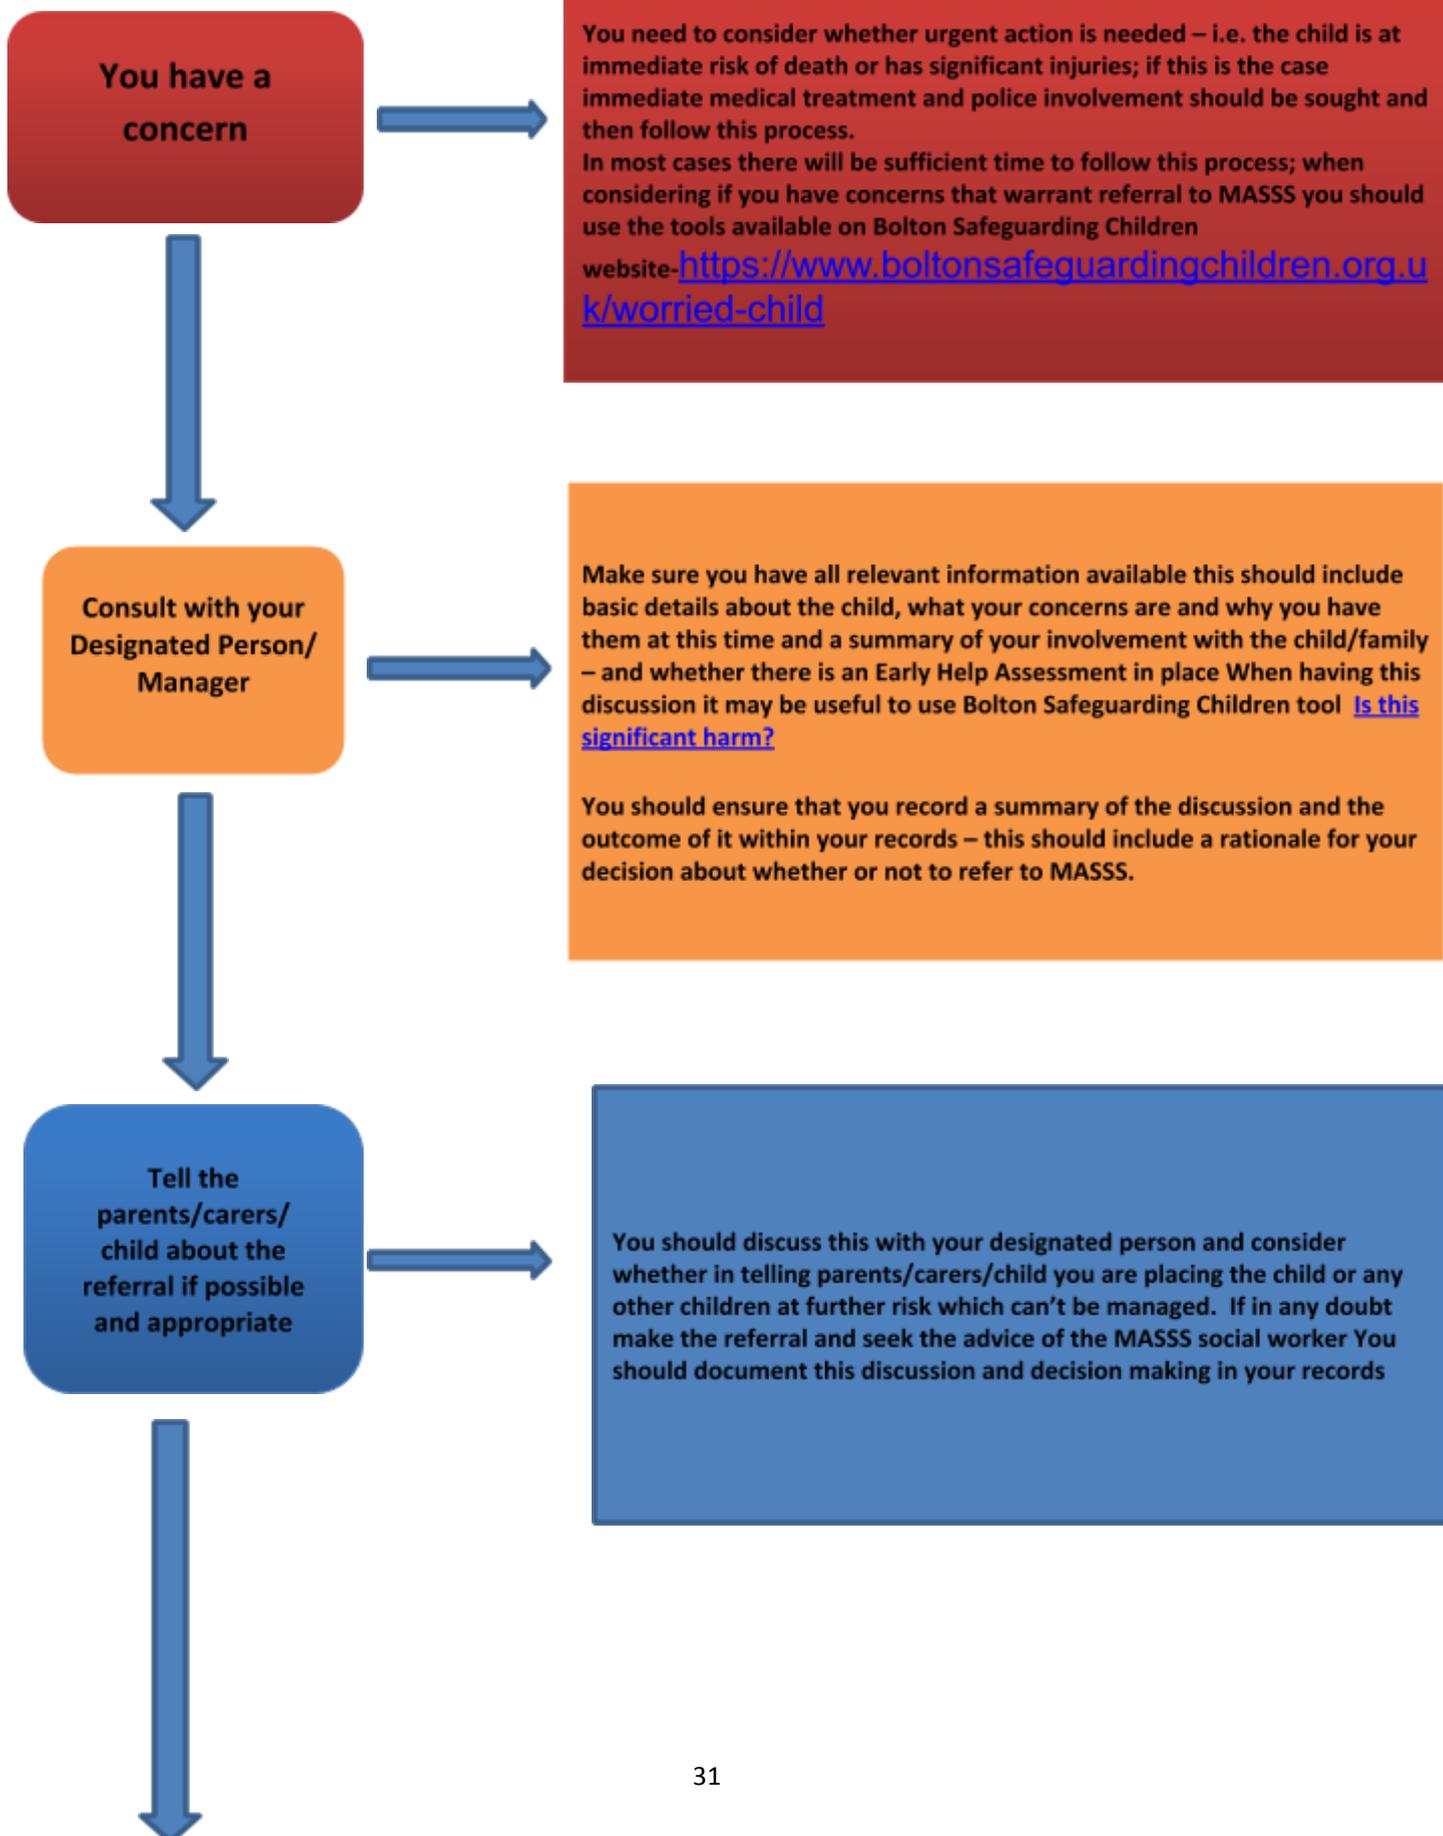

It will be the responsibility of the designated safeguarding lead to ensure that appropriate advice is obtained from the Children's Social Care Department and that the relevant paperwork is completed.

If, at any point, there is a risk of immediate serious harm to a child a referral should be made to children's social care immediately. Anybody can make a referral. If the child's situation does not appear to be improving the staff member with concerns should press for reconsideration. Concerns should always lead to help for the child at some point. Knowing what to look for is vital to the early identification of abuse and neglect.

If staff members are unsure they should always speak to the designated safeguarding lead. In exceptional circumstances, such as in an emergency or a genuine concern that appropriate action has not been taken, staff members can speak directly to MASSS.

If an incident happens outside normal school time or during an out of school activity, and neither the designated safeguarding lead, nor the Head, nor any other senior staff member is available, then the member of staff will contact the Police and/or MASSS as soon as possible (the out of hours number is- 01204 337777) The member of staff will inform the Designated Safeguarding Lead, Head, Deputy Head or other senior member of staff as soon as possible.

PRACTITIONERS QUICK GUIDE TO MAKING A REFERRAL ABOUT THE SAFETY OR WELFARE OF A CHILD

Refer to the (MASS) Duty Social Worker

Contact the social worker by telephone and clearly state you are making a referral, this will avoid confusion
01204 331500

Make sure you record who you are talking to, make sure you provide a clear account of your concerns and why you are contacting MASS now.

At the end of the call you should know what is going to happen next, the timescales for action and what your role in this will be. When making a referral refer to Useful information when making a Child Protection referral
If the duty worker does not agree that social work involvement is needed you should listen to their reasoning for this and their advice about alternative action – including recommendations to use early help processes; if at the end of this you still do not agree then you should refer to Greater Manchester guidance on Resolving professional differences
You should ensure that the child and their family continues to be supported and kept safe while awaiting resolution

Follow up in writing
using Early Help
Assessment Form
within
2 working days

After you make a telephone referral to a social worker you should follow this up, securely, in writing using the Early Help Assessment to confirm your concerns and to share any additional information you know about the child and their family. Send to RA@bolton.gov.uk

You override consent as you are taking action to safeguard a child – if you have had no acknowledgment that the written information has been received, you should re-contact the social worker and request an update.
If you know there is an Early Help Assessment and Plan open but you are not the Lead Professional, you should tell the Lead Professional about the action you have taken and why as soon as possible; if you are not sure if there is an Early Help Assessment you can check with the Integrated Working Team on 01204 331394 who will let you know and share details of the Lead Professional where one is identified – it would be good practice to share this information with the Lead Professional. If you are the current Lead Professional making the referral and there is an Early Help Assessment and Plan in place, this should be updated to include the referral information and used to follow up your referral in writing to the social worker - this helps to avoid duplication and gives the social worker the best possible information from which to start their assessment. Remember to also send a secure copy to the Integrated Working Team at boltonISA@bolton.gov.uk

What school or college staff should do if they have concerns about safeguarding practices within the school:

Staff and volunteers should feel able to raise concerns about poor or unsafe practice and potential failures in the school or college's safeguarding regime. Appropriate whistleblowing procedures, which are suitably reflected in staff training and staff behaviour policies, should be in place for such concerns to be raised with the school or college's management team. Where a staff member feels unable to raise the issue with their employer or feels that their genuine concerns are not being addressed, other whistleblowing channels may be open to them.

The school's Whistleblowing policy enables staff to raise concerns or allegations in confidence and for a sensitive enquiry to take place. All concerns of poor practice or concerns about a child's welfare brought about by the behaviour of colleagues should be reported to the head teacher. Complaints about the head teacher should be reported to the chair of governors.

If you have any concerns about a child in your workplace you should raise this with your employer or organisational safeguarding lead in the first instance.

You can also refer to the NSPCC Whistleblowing Advice Line if:

- your organisation doesn't have clear safeguarding procedures to follow
- you think your concern won't be dealt with properly or may be covered-up
- you've raised a concern but it hasn't been acted upon
- you're worried about being treated unfairly.

You can call about an incident that happened in the past, is happening now or you believe may happen in the future.

LIAISING WITH THE POLICE

NPCC- When to call the police should help designated safeguarding leads understand when they should consider calling the police and what to expect when they do

RESPONDING TO A CHILD MAKING A DISCLOSURE

It is recognised that a child may seek out an individual teacher/adult to share information specifically about abuse or neglect, or a child may talk spontaneously, individually or in a group when School staff or volunteers are present.

In these situations staffs are required to:

- Listen to the child, and allow the child to freely recall significant events, keeping questions to the absolute minimum necessary to ensure a clear and accurate understanding of what has been said.
- Reassure the child but tell them that a record of the information given will be made and do this. Include timing, setting and others present. Record the child's demeanour as well as what is said.
- Explain that they cannot promise to keep confidential anything the child says if the matter is related to child protection or abuse.
- Explain that help may be required to keep them safe, but do not ask the child to repeat their account of events to anyone else.

The individual who receives the information will be expected to pass it on as a matter of urgency to the relevant Designated Safeguarding Lead (see Appendix 3) to record the information.

MANAGING ALLEGATIONS AGAINST THOSE WHO WORK WITH CHILDREN

If you have concerns about a colleague

Staff who are concerned about the conduct of a colleague towards a child are undoubtedly placed in a very difficult situation. They may worry that they have misunderstood the situation and they will wonder whether a report could jeopardise their colleague's career. All staff must remember that the welfare of the child is paramount. Staff should follow Bolton Safeguarding Children Partnership's 'First FIVE Minutes' flowchart (appendix 10). Staff must not question the child or the alleged perpetrator. Allegations against staff should be reported to the head teacher. Allegations against the headteacher should be reported to the chair of governors.

Staff who are the subject of an allegation

When an allegation is made against a member of staff, set procedures must be followed. It is rare for a child to make an entirely false or malicious allegation, although misunderstandings and misinterpretations of events can and do happen. A child may also make an allegation against an innocent party because they are too afraid to name the real perpetrator. Even so, we must accept that some adults do pose a serious risk to children's welfare and safety and we must act on every allegation made. Staff who are the subject of an allegation have the right to have their case dealt with fairly, quickly and consistently and to be kept informed of its progress. Suspension is not mandatory, nor is it automatic but, in some cases, staff may be suspended where this is deemed to be the best way to ensure that children are protected.

There is a tracking form that has been devised for schools to record allegations of professional abuse (appendix 11). The form also allows for the recording of outcomes and lessons learned, keeps all the information in one place and allows reflection as to how a case has progressed.

The full policy can be accessed at:

<http://boltonsafeguardingchildren.org.uk/documents/2017/08/managing-allegations-procedure.pdf>

For further information on managing allegations against staff contact your Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO)

Colin Jones – 01204 337474 colin.jones@bolton.gov.uk

Staff should also have regard to Safer Working Practice for those working in Education settings which was updated in April 2020 with an addendum to include guidance on Covid-19, school closures and online learning.

<https://www.saferrecruitmentconsortium.org/GSWP%20COVID%20addendum%20April%202020%20final-2.pdf>

CHILDREN MISSING FROM EDUCATION

All children, regardless of their circumstances, are entitled to a full time education which is suitable to their age, ability, aptitude and any special educational needs they may have. Local authorities have a duty to establish, as far as it is possible to do so, the identity of children of compulsory school age who are missing education in their area.

All staff should be aware that children going missing, particularly repeatedly, can act as a vital warning sign of a range of safeguarding possibilities. This may include abuse and neglect, which may include sexual abuse or exploitation and can also be a sign of child criminal exploitation including involvement in county lines. It may indicate mental health problems, risk of substance abuse, risk of travelling to conflict zones, risk of female genital mutilation or risk of forced marriage. Early intervention is necessary to identify the existence of any underlying safeguarding risk and to help prevent the risks of a child going missing in future. Staff should be aware of their schools or college's unauthorised absence and children missing from education procedures.

Schools should put in place appropriate safeguarding policies, procedures and responses for children who go missing from education, particularly on repeat occasions.

The law requires all schools to have an admission register and, with the exception of schools where all pupils are boarders, an attendance register. All pupils must be placed on both registers.

Sharples school will inform the local authority of any pupil who is going to be deleted from the admission register where they:

- have been taken out of school by their parents and are being educated outside the school system e.g. home education;
- have ceased to attend school and no longer live within reasonable distance of the school at which they are registered;
- have been certified by the school medical officer as unlikely to be in a fit state of health to attend school before ceasing to be of compulsory school age, and neither he/she nor his/her parent has indicated the intention to continue to attend the school after ceasing to be of compulsory school age;
- are in custody for a period of more than four months due to a final court order and the proprietor does not reasonably believe they will be returning to the school at the end of that period; or,
- have been permanently excluded.

The local authority must be notified when a school is to delete a pupil from its register under the above circumstances. This should be done as soon as the grounds for deletion are met, but no later than deleting the pupil's name from the register. It is essential that schools comply with this duty, so that local authorities can, as part of their duty to identify children of compulsory school age who are missing education, follow up with any child who might be in danger of not receiving an education and who might be at risk of abuse or neglect.

All schools must inform the local authority of any pupil who fails to attend school regularly, or has been absent without the school's permission for a continuous period of 10 school days or more, at such intervals as are agreed between the school and the local authority.

Notification and Referral Route

If a practitioner becomes aware of a child missing from education (CME), in whatever capacity, they should notify the CME Officer 01204 332139.

All cases of children and young people missing education or at risk of doing so should be reported to the CME Officer to ensure that comprehensive data on the issues is recorded. Even if a worker is ensuring that the child or young person moves swiftly into appropriate provision they should still make a referral.

Process within Bolton

- Complete the CME referral form
- Email to CME Officer at childrenmissingeducation@bolton.gov.uk
- Telephone CME Officer, Jane Roscoe on 01204 332193

The CME Officer will make necessary enquiries and create a referral to the Early Intervention Team Service, if appropriate, so that further investigations can be undertaken.

LOOKED AFTER CHILDREN

The most common reason for children becoming looked after is as a result of abuse and/or neglect. Governing bodies of maintained schools and proprietors of academies should ensure that staff have the skills, knowledge and understanding necessary to keep looked after children safe. In particular, they should ensure that appropriate staff have the information they need in relation to a child's looked after legal status (whether they are looked after under voluntary arrangements with consent of parents or on an interim or full care order) and contact arrangements with birth parents or those with parental responsibility. They should also have information about the child's care arrangements and the levels of authority delegated to the carer by the authority looking after him/her.

THE DESIGNATED TEACHER

Governing bodies of maintained schools and proprietors of academies must appoint a designated teacher and should work with local authorities to promote the educational achievement of registered pupils who are looked-after. With the commencement of sections 4 to 6 of the Children and Social Work Act 2017, designated teachers have responsibility for promoting the educational achievement of children who have left care through adoption, special guardianship or child arrangement orders.

VIRTUAL SCHOOL HEAD

The Virtual School Head is the lead responsible officer for ensuring that arrangements are in place to improve the educational experiences and outcomes of a local authority's looked-after children, including those placed out-of-authority. The Virtual School Head should ensure the educational attainment and progress of children looked after by the local authority are monitored and evaluated as if those children attended a single school. The Virtual School Head is also responsible for managing pupil premium plus for looked-after children.

The designated teacher should work with the Virtual School Head to promote the educational achievement of previously looked-after children, including discussing how funding can be best used to support the progress of looked after children in the school and meet the needs identified in the child's personal education plan (PEPs).

As with designated teachers, following the commencement of sections 4 to 6 of the Children and Social Work Act 2017, Virtual School Heads have responsibilities towards children who have left care through adoption, special guardianship or child arrangement orders or who were adopted from state care outside England or Wales.

In Bolton we have a guide for Bolton Schools and their teachers. There may already be looked after children on roll in your school, but even if there isn't, the chances are there will be in the future. The guidance is designed to help schools ensure that their policies and practices are fully inclusive of the needs of looked after children. Bolton (Looked After Children) Virtual Schools

Many people do not realise that by law Bolton Council must be notified when parents make arrangements for their child to be cared for by friends, neighbours or extended family for more than 28 days. When parents make plans for their child to be cared for like this it is called a Private Fostering Arrangement. Private Fostering happens for lots of different reasons some of which include:-

- Children living with a friend's family as a result of separation, divorce or problems at home
- Children sent to this country for education or health care by birth parents living overseas
- Teenagers living with the family of a boyfriend or girlfriend

- Teenagers who have broken ties with their parents and are staying with friends or non-relatives
- Those living with host families whilst pursuing courses of study

If a member of staff believes a child may be privately fostered they must inform the designated safeguarding lead, who must inform the Local Authority.

CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS AND DISABILITIES:

Children with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND) can face additional safeguarding challenges. Governing bodies and proprietors should ensure their child protection policy reflects the fact that additional barriers can exist when recognising abuse and neglect in this group of children. These can include:

- assumptions that indicators of possible abuse such as behaviour, mood and injury relate to the child's disability without further exploration;
- the potential for children with SEN and disabilities being disproportionately impacted by behaviours such as bullying, without outwardly showing any signs; and
- Communication barriers and difficulties in overcoming these barriers.

EQUALITY AND DIVERSITY

Sharples school understands that promoting equality and diversity and tackling discrimination is essential in safeguarding the pupils. Sharples school has separate policies and procedures in place to address issues such as transgender. The school also has an anti-bullying policy that covers harassment and discrimination.

ONLINE SAFETY

Most of our children will use mobile phones and computers at some time. They are a source of fun, entertainment, communication and education. However, we know that some men, women and young people will use these technologies to harm children. The harm might range from sending hurtful or abusive texts and emails, to enticing children to engage in sexually harmful conversations, webcam photography or face-to-face meetings. The school's online safety policy explains how we try to keep children safe in school. Cyber-bullying by children, via texts and emails, will be treated as seriously as any other type of bullying and will be managed through our anti-bullying procedures.

As schools and colleges increasingly work online it is essential that children are safeguarded from potentially harmful and inappropriate online material. As such, governing bodies and proprietors should ensure appropriate filters and appropriate monitoring systems are in place. Sharples school ensures that children are taught about safeguarding, including online, through teaching and learning opportunities, as part of providing a broad and balanced curriculum. This may include covering relevant issues through personal, social, health and economic education (PSHE), tutorials (in FE colleges) and/or – for maintained schools and colleges – through sex and relationship education (SRE)”. Although appropriate blocking is essential, there should not be so much that it restricts children’s learning.

All staff should have regard to the school online safety policy along with the Department of Education Guidance on Teaching online safety in schools (June 2019) and UK Council for child internet safety (UKCCIS)

THE CHILD’S WISHES

Sharples school has systems in place to ascertain the wishes and feelings of the children. Where there is a safeguarding concern the school will seek the wishes of the child. All systems within the school operate with the children’s best interests at heart.
