

Heart stopped

Glittering clouds dotted in the pink sky

Soft sky with shimmering dark and grim lights

Representing love, joy and happiness,

Skyscrapers stretched in the cotton candy fluff

Towering over everything too

A pink sky filled with everlasting love,

Smiling and beaming faces, all full of-

Then a dark shadow cloud comes with heartache,

Pain and sorrow from the people below,

Hearts are broken, then not even 'hello',

The flag in the wind, representing peace,

But peace will only come when lovers are back,

Can't you see? Recover from heartbreak,

When the sky only reminds me of it?
